BOB SAXTON

FOR the second home fixture of our Easter programme, we welcome Bolton Wanderers to Ewood. With a derby atmosphere and maximum points vital to both sides, for different reasons, supporters should be in for an entertaining game.

I was unable to comment in the Good Friday programme on the game at Luton last weekend, due to the early printing schedules required because of the holiday period. We were disappointed at the 2-0 scoreline but Luton have shown many times this season that on their day they are a very good side. However, with the 'three points for a win' situation, I am certain promotion will not be decided until the last few fixtures and it is up to us to keep working for each other and keep plugging away.

Not surprisingly the interest in the promotion race has enabled the Commercial team to obtain sponsorship which may not otherwise have been forthcoming at this stage of the season. Sponsorship is one of the many other forms of income which football clubs have to rely on for survival and today we are pleased to provide the 'North West Action Group on Smoking and Health' a platform to forward their views.

I have always been a non-smoker and whilst Blackburn Rovers welcome their financial support, I personally think the message 'North West Ash' bring today is important to everyone. Just consider, for you don't have to be a sportsman or sportswoman to appreciate the advantages of being a non-smoker!

NEWTS & VIFES

IF promotion were to be decided on support and crowd potential, then Sheffield Wednesday and Newcastle United would already be looking forward to First Division football next season. For there is no doubt that both these clubs, with their massive away followings and remarkably loyal home support, would be welcomed in the top flight.

Both, of course, have a chance of making it back to English football's summit for next season and, judging solely on facilities and potential support, Chelsea should be up among the front runners, too.

But it's what happens on the field, not off, which thankfully decides the honours, thus giving the likes of Blackburn Rovers and Rotherham — both with average "gates" currently well under 10,000 — an equal chance of tasting the limelight of First Division soccer.

Good home crowds do give clubs a decided advantage in monetary terms, though, in turn, they demand bigger signings, so it's something of a vicious circle.

Yet, surprisingly, it's not always the clubs who command the largest home support who have the best home records; with Newcastle a notable exception. Perhaps the over-eagerness to please works against teams like Wednesday who have had anything but a happy time in front of their own Hillsborough hordes this season.

Wednesday, in fact, had won only seven of 17 home fixtures, while, in stark contrast, it was their outstanding record away from Hillsborough which pushed them towards the top.

Chelsea have so far not had the invincibility expected at home, despite the fact that nearly twice as many fans regularly flock through the Stamford Bridge turnstiles, compared to places like Ewood and Millmoor.

By Peter White,
Lancashire Evening
Telegraph
& Sports Pink.

WITH four more players booked in Rovers' recent home game against Crystal Palace, following close on the six names taken at Wrexham and cautions and dismissals rising to a record number this season, I sometimes wonder just what is going on in the game.

Speaking to managers and players, the over-riding impression is that the game is nothing like as physical as it once was. Yet, even though we have unfortunately dispensed with those invaluable yellow cards, on the grounds that they were apparently too easy to produce, there seems to be more bookings than ever before.

So, what's the reason? Is the behaviour of players much worse these days or are referees setting false standards with the result that, having booked one player for a fairly innocuous foul, they then have to take out the pen for anything similar?

Without wanting to point the finger at match officials, who, let's face it, have the most thankless task in the game, it does seem to me that there has been some over-reaction by referees in the games I have seen.

Only rarely have I seen, this season, anything approaching viciousness or real skulduggery and, ironically, those offenders have usually escaped.

The reverse, in fact, is often what happens. When, for example, did you last see a game where there were not at least half-a-dozen free kicks given for fouls against the goalkeeper when, from the sidelines, it has looked as though the forward was merely making a legitimate challenge for the ball — the type of challenge that, not too many years ago, would have been accepted, without question.

If there's one thing guaranteed to upset crowds and turn them against the referee it's constant whistling whenever the ball goes into the penalty area.

A foul is a foul and must be punished but, really, goalkeepers have it far too easy these days and a lot of the excitement is taken out of the game for the fans because of it. From corners and crosses, it's all too convenient for a 'keeper to come hurtling out, collide, or merely brush against a forward and a free kick is awarded.

The consistency is another controversial point, with players being cautioned for a certain type of offence in one game and colleagues getting away with it on other occasions.

Simon Garner's booking for encroachment at Wrexham was a typical example. There was certainly no deliberate intention to waste time — there were less than three minutes gone! — yet how many times do players deliberately prevent a quick free kick being taken by standing directly over the ball and go unpunished despite the fact that this tactic certainly upsets and annoys crowds as well as opponents.

There are problems in all aspects of the professional game at the moment but when it comes to tackling them, let's have the referees in on it as well. The best officials are always the ones you don't notice but, make no mistake, they are as important as any player in helping to make the game an entertaining spectacle, or hindering its flow. That has been seen on a number of occasions this season.

STAR VISITOR

JIM McDONAGH

RELIABILITY is the one word that expresses one's requirements of a goalkeeper and that is the specific quality that Jim McDonagh has in abundance — and he has underlined this quality in the course of 350 games in the Football League.

A native of Rotherham, he joined his home-town club virtually straight from school and progressed via the apprentice ranks to sign professional in December, 1970, and made his League debut as a 17-year-old on Easter Monday, 1971, in a Third Division game against Wrexham. This game ended in a 1-1 draw and 24 hours later he helped his side to a 1-0 win at Walsall. By this time he had already been capped at youth level and from then on he had a see-saw battle with Roy Tunks for the first team spot at Millmoor. But in 1974/5 he was an ever-present in the Rotherham side that won promotion from Division Four.

After his transfer to Bolton he quickly settled down in the team that narrowly missed promotion in 1976/7 and then played in every game in the 1977/8 Second Division championship team.

In fact he played a total of three full seasons without missing a game before moving to Everton in July, 1980. It was while at Everton that he gained his first Republic of Ireland Cap.

However, he was transferred back to Bolton and has taken up where he left off as one of the key men in their struggle to keep away from the danger zone in Division Two.

WELCOME TO OUR VISITORS

BOLTON WANDERERS

FOUR successive defeats have left Bolton, at the time of writing, not yet clear of relegation danger though they have looked good enough in some of their games to draw well clear and the amount of experience in the side should be a key factor in the final struggle.

Bolton are, like ourselves, one of the 12 original members of the Football League and much has happened since that December day in 1888 when they drew a 4-4 thriller on their first ever visit here.

In the fourth season of the Football League they finished in third place and they have never since come as near to the championship though they won the F.A. Cup three times in the twenties and again in 1958.

They won the first F.A. Cup Final to be played at Wembley Stadium in 1923 when an estimated 200,000 packed the Empire Stadium to overflowing. They dominated the competition in the twenties, going on to lift the Cup in 1926 and 1929 but they then had to wait until 1958 for their next major honour when the legendary Nat Lofthouse led them to F.A. Cup glory when they beat the Munich-ravaged Manchester United side.

Over the years they have often been involved in promotion and relegation battles, this being their eighth spell in Division Two. They enjoyed their longest unbroken spell in Division One either side of the Second World War from 1935 to 1964, but it was soon after that they slipped to Division Three for the first time in 1971.

They stayed there just two seasons and after steady progress during the seventies they won back their First Division place in 1978. They struggled bravely after a bad start in 1978/9 and ended up in seventeenth place but in a disastrous following season they stayed in bottom place from November onwards. Last season they got off to a mixed start and this set the pattern for the season. They finally dispelled any relegation danger with successive wins at Preston and Cambridge a month before the end of the season.

THIS SEASON

This season began disastrously with four defeats in a row, but after a surprise opening win at Derby near the end of September they had a period of fluctuating fortunes followed by an impressive run of home results that has been tarnished a little in recent weeks when both Rotherham and Norwich have won at Burnden Park. They have struggled in away games, however, with the notable exception of a 1-0 win at Sheffield Wednesday in February. In fact only Derby and Scunthorpe in the whole of the Football League have lost more away games up to the time of writing.

Goal scoring has been something of a problem, the most consistent scorer being Midlander CHRIS THOMPSON, a former apprentice, now in his first full season. He netted against us at Burnden in December, as did midfielder TONY HENRY, who was Manchester City's substitute in last season's F.A. Cup Final. DAVID HOGGAN, another former apprentice, also scored against us last season. WAYNE FOSTER, a newcomer this season, has popped home a few goals, too. JEFF CHANDLER, an Eire international, signed from Leeds this season, and P.F.A. Chairman ALAN GOWLING (ex-Manchester United, Huddersfield Town and Newcastle United) provide the guile from midfield.

PAUL JONES has given splendid service at the heart of the defence in the course of over 400 League games, his regular partner now being former Distillery man GERRY McELHINNEY, while on the flanks former England man STEVE WHITWORTH (ex-Leicester and Sunderland) links up with local lad MIKE BENNETT, while another young defender NEIL BERRY has been substitute recently. In goal JIM McDONAGH is now back after a season with Everton.

WITH Blackburn Rovers 'A' team sitting at the top of the Lancashire League Division Two with a playing record of Won 17, Drawn 1, Lost 3, we invited our Youth Development Officer Alan Bradshaw to cover the season to date for our 'profile' article.

"It may interest supporters if I explain the basic organisation of Junior Club Football in the Lancashire area. There are two divisions of the Lancashire Football League — the first is an open age league, while the second division is for under 18s only. However, in Division Two, teams are allowed to use two over-age players in any of the games and this is particularly advantageous where a club has senior players recovering from injury, who have to be nursed back gradually into match fitness. You may remember last season when Tony Parkes and Joe Craig both played a number of games in our 'A' team.

BLACKBURN ROVERS 'A'

BY ALAN BRADSHAW

"To be able to play over-age players is also an advantage when a club has players who are not always available for selection, but who the club wish to retain for when they can be selected on a more permanent basis. I am thinking in this case about students who are at College or University away from Blackburn and who are only available at holiday times. One person in this category is the ex-Queen Elizabeth's Grammar School pupil

Craig Mann, who attends Leicester University — hopefully Craig will be training and playing with us over the Easter period.

"The age allowance also helps when a scout recommends a young player to the club of perhaps 19 or 20 years of age. We are not too sure sometimes about his standards of play or fitness. So, rather than put the trialist straight into the Central League side, we will have a look at him first in the 'A' team.

"I must point out that, because there is an age limit for Division Two, there is no promotion or relegation between the two Lancashire Leagues. We could go into Division One if we so desired, but that would mean a change of policy within the club, and I must admit that I am not too keen on 15 or 16-year-old schoolboys playing regularly against the seasoned professionals in the reserve teams of Carlisle, Oldham, Wigan, Port Vale and Rochdale, who are all in Division One.

"This leads me on to the players who comprise our 'A' team. I have just mentioned schoolboys in the previous paragraph, and in our squad we have a number of schoolboys who will be leaving school this summer and who are hoping to gain an apprenticeship with the club next season. These include Mark Holdsworth, from John Rigby, and Peter McCrae, from St Wilfrids, both Blackburn boys, Seldom Simms from Preston, and Michael Ford from Oldham.

"We also have boys who have stayed on at school in the Sixth Form in order to gain further academic qualifications, and in this group are Russell Woods, from Witton Park School, Blackburn, and Gary Mather, who attends Canon Slade School in Bolton.

"Young amateurs who have left school for other careers are a very important group in the 'A' team. These players, for various reasons, may not have had the opportunity to come as apprentice footballers at 16, but if they continue to develop they may get their chance later on to enter the world of professional football. In this group we have Steve Barker and Paul Allen from Great Harwood, Jimmy Evans from Leigh, David Johnson from Durham and local boy Grant Lightbown, who is leading scorer in the team with eight goals from nine games.

"The final group of players is, of course, the full-time apprentices at the club, and regulars in the 'A' team are Michael Salmon and Michael Bell, from Leyland, Paul Gooddy, from Stockport, and skipper Darren Finch, from Padiham, who incidentally couldn't wait to play against Burnley last week despite having his nose broken in five places two days earlier by a certain T. Gennoe in training.

"It would be unfair of me when talking about the 'A' team not to mention and to thank my assistant, Tommy Haworth. Tommy, another Blackburn lad who played in his youthful days, does a great deal of work for the Rovers, taking a weight training group on a Tuesday evening, helping me with the coaching on a Wednesday and at trials on Sundays, as well as doing the sponge job on Saturdays.

"Whilst it is nice to win games and be leading the league, it must be remembered that the primary aim of players in the 'A' team is to develop good techniques and habits, so that they can progress up the club ladder into the reserves and hopefully, if progress is maintained, into the first team as senior professionals Derek Fazackerley and Simon Garner have done. Quite a few apprentices and amateurs have had a taste of Central League football this season, some have even gained regular places, let us hope it continues."

THE last home fixture in March against Crystal Palace provided the Rovers with their fifth consecutive home win and against a team in Rovers' colours! With referee Mr Tyson from Sunderland over-ruling the Palace change strip, Rovers provided their all red away kit for the visitors.

Liverpool's Triumphant March

MARCH was quite a month for Liverpool. Encouraged by their triumph in the Football League Milk Cup Final, they have not only mounted a devastating challenge for the League Championship, but also hit the Pepsi Golden Goals jackpot again by winning their third monthly award. And they have also established a significant lead in the season-to-date Pepsi I table, and are favourites to withstand the challenge of Ipswich and Southampton for the season's £5,000 prize.

Leicester City and Watford will share the £1,000 Pepsi II award for March as a result of their identical hauls of home and away goals and bonus points. And Watford have closed the gap on season-to-date leaders Luton to an 11-point margin.

Reading have double cause to celebrate in Pepsi III. They pipped Plymouth and Lincoln for the March award and have opened an 8-point lead over Fulham in the chase for the season's £5,000 award. But the Londoners' four games in hand could yet prove conclusive over the next six weeks. And Fulham's Gordon Davies — with 18 League goals — leads the Pepsi III quest for the £1,000 prize awarded to the top goalscorer in each Division.

Division IV provided a glut of high-scoring matches in March. Sheffield United hit Northampton for seven, but the Cobblers themselves hit the net 18 times during the month. Hull City, Darlington and York each grabbed three sets of bonus points, and Bradford City's 14 goals recovered for them the Pepsi IV season-to-date top spot. But it is Wigan Athletic who will receive Pepsi's £1,000 cheque as the monthly winners — thanks to 18 goals and three sets of bonus points.

CONGRATULATIONS are very much in order for Liverpool despite their European Cup disappointment in Bulgaria. That setback should not mar the achievement of retaining the League Cup, just as the manner of their victory over Spurs vindicated the changes introduced this season into the country's most consistent team.

Yet only a few hours before the kick-off at Wembley Bob Paisley told me of his worries that such an occasion might sap the energies of his younger players who were facing a major final for the first time.

It's now history of course that Ronnie Whelan refused to be intimidated by nerves. His endeavour had already made him my man of the match before he contributed the first of his two goals. Ian Rush, also in his first Wembley final, popped up with the third for Liverpool's curtain call, incidentally their hundredth goal of the season.

A sadder note recently came when I had to commentate on the sending off of Trevor Francis against Everton. His manager John Bond hit the nail on the head when he talked of the England striker's frustration at his injury problems, and an inability to quickly put his game back together against Howard Kendall's side.

Trevor struck the ban with a header shortly before he had that uncharacteristic moment when he lost his self control. "If I'd scored then I'd never have got sent off," he admitted to me. The dismissal broke the mood of what had been a splendid contest.

Kevin Bond had struck a thirty-yarder for Manchester City — an answer to his critics. A minute earlier Adrian Heath had decisively finished a superb move to instigate an argument amongst his team-mates. Which was the better effort? Heath's at Maine Road, or that volley that Match Time cameras also recorded by Graeme Sharp against Spurs?

One or two goals of any description will be gratefully accepted by Bolton Wanderers as they face a stern examination to retain their Second Division status.

Yet so much of their plight has been self-inflicted. Look at this catalogue of disaster . . .

September 12th at Barnsley: Brian Kidd sent off in a 0-3 defeat.

November 14th at Shrewsbury: Kidd penalty saved, Mick Bennett own goal. Beaten 0-2.

November 28th at Crystal Palace: A Paul Jones own goal is responsible for a 0-1 loss.

January 30th at Oldham: Mike Doyle marks his debut with an own goal. Bolton draw 1-1.

February 3rd at Newcastle: Doyle sent off, Bolton lose 0-2.

March 20th at home to Norwich City: Jones misses a penalty then puts through his own goal. Norwich win 1-0.

NEWS

NEXT MEETING

DON'T forget that the next Junior Rovers meeting is at Blackburn House School. The format for the evening is somewhat different to the normal monthly meeting and is aptly described as a fun evening. There are a few surprises in store and the date is Wednesday, 14th April, and the 'fun evening' starts at 7 p.m.

FOOTBALL WITH A DIFFERENCE!

ON 2nd May a football match will be played between the committee and parents of the Junior Rovers members. It is hoped one or two former Rovers players will make an appearance at the game which will be held on the Griffin ground, kick-off 2 p.m.

In addition, there will be a penalty competition for all age groups of the Junior Rovers.

LAST CHANCE

CLOSING date for the World Cup poster competition is Wednesday, 14th April. Entries to any committee member on or before the 14th, which is, don't forget, the next meeting!

IN RESERVE

YET another victory to write about! Our home fixture against Aston Villa a week last Saturday ended with the lads winning 1-0.

We were competing against a very experienced and expensive side. It was virtually the same side that beat us so comprehensively (4-0) at Villa Park back in February. The game itself was not a classic by any means, two hard working competitive sides and a dry, hard pitch put paid to that. We did string a couple of fine moves together in the first half that could have quite easily ended in goals, but we could have been two or three down by half time. It was only the efforts of John Butcher that saved us, the crossbar and an upright!

Marshall Burke — superb volley

We played better in the second half, but fluent moves were at a premium and in the midfield area where the ball was liveliest, things got a little hectic. We finally broke down the Villa defence midway in the second half — what a great goal it was, too — a superb volley from the edge of the penalty area by Marshall Burke. With a bit of luck Marshall could have had a hat-trick, the two chances we created in the first half fell to him and he only just missed the target.

It's a strange fact that the top scorers in the Reserves are the smallest players in the team — namely Gary Butcher and Marshall Burke. They both have the knack of being in the right place at the right time and enjoy scoring goals. The Villa match saw the debuts of Julian Marshall and Billy Askew. Both players coped very well in their first match, especially when the players directly in opposition to them were

John Butcher — capital saves

Terry Donovan and Des Bremner (both highly rated players with First Division experience). The team spirit within the side at the moment is first class, no doubt helped by our recent spate of victories. Let's hope it continues to stay that way.

JIM FURNELL,
Reserve Team Manager.

30,20&10 YEARS AGO

THIRTY YEARS AGO

OUR winless spell extended to five games when we crashed 4-1 at home to Birmingham on April 5th, 1952. We were a goal down after 15 minutes when a fierce shot from our former striker TOMMY BRIGGS spun out of REG ELVY's grasp for BILL SMITH to bang home the rebound. Before half-time Tommy had added another after a solo burst through the middle and after the break he quickly made it 3-0 after a delicate move involving Wardle and Murphy. We pulled one back in the 76th minute when ROY WARHURST put through his own goal in a scramble but JIM DAILEY made it 4-1 before the end.

We were now just four points above Hull and six above bottom placed QPR, while Birmingham led Sheffield Wednesday on goal average after the latter's 2-1 win at Bury with DEREK DOOLEY getting yet another winner.

On the same day the second F.A. Cup semi-final, postponed from the previous week, was played and though a BILLY GRAY goal earned Arsenal a replay the Gunners went through on the following Monday with two FREDDY COX goals. In another big game England beat Scotland 2-1 at Hampden Park with two STAN PEARSON goals in the first half.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

GREAT work by goalkeepers BOB JONES and GORDON WEST was a feature of our 1-1 draw here with Everton on April 7th, 1962. DENIS STEVENS put the visitors ahead in the first half with IAN LAWTHORPE replying after the break. We were now in mid-table in Division One, while Ipswich crashed 5-0 at Old Trafford and Burnley, who drew 1-1 at Wolverhampton (with RAY POINTER getting his hundredth League goal), moved into top place on goal average. Liverpool dropped a surprise home point to Huddersfield but were still five points clear of Orient at the top of Division Two.

TEN YEARS AGO

A GOALLESS draw at Barnsley on April 8th, 1972, left us still in the middle of Division Three. Aston Villa won 1-0 at York with a BRUCE RIOCH goal and led Division Three by five points from Bournemouth. Derby, meanwhile, looked like prospective First Division champions as they won 4-0 at Bramall Lane, KEVIN HECTOR amongst their scorers. Leeds were still very much in the hunt, however, after two MICK JONES goals had helped them to a 3-0 win at Stoke.

BRANCH NEWS

GOLDEN GOAL

AS USUAL, Chorley Branch will be operating a golden goal competition for the end of season showpiece, the F.A. Cup Final. Tickets are available from branch members and the Club Shop. Price 5p each, they offer £50 for the correct time of the first goal scored and £10 for one second either side of the winning time. If you think you can sell tickets for this popular competition contact the Commercial Office.

PROGRAMME CORNER

MANY members of the supporters branches are enthusiastic programme collectors and Accrington branch have now included a regular article on programmes in their monthly newsletter. They have an extensive collection of Rovers programmes for sale and should you require odd programmes to complete your personal collection contact Dave Grundy on Blackburn 391056.

KEEP IN TOUCH

WHY not join a supporters branch? The Rovers would welcome your support through the summer months as a branch member. The branches organise your support for the Rovers and offer facilities for their members, i.e. Away Travel, Social Evenings, Competitions, Keep Fit sessions, and you can still save for your next season ticket.

For details of the officials in your area contact the Commercial Office on Blackburn 663255.

ROVERS

ON THE ROAD

GOING BY CAR TO ... NORWICH CITY

THE route to Norwich is a lengthy one, involving motorway and country roads, in fact a round trip of approximately 430 miles.

Leave Blackburn by the A677 Haslingden Old Road or B232 Grane Road, joining the A56 and then the M66 to the junction with the M62.

Take the eastbound carriageway, leaving the M62 at junction 33 with the A1. Take the southbound carriageway. Travel southwards on the A1 until Newark, joining the A17. Continue on the A17 to Kings Lynn, picking up the A47 to Norwich.

On entering Norwich, follow A47 for Yarmouth into Ring Road, for Carrow Road home of Norwich City.

There is limited street parking around the ground.

The match programme is on sale outside the ground and will cost you 35p.

Seat tickets for this fixture can be obtained now from the Ticket Office, Norwich City F.C., Carrow Road, Norwich.

Prices are £2.00, £3.30 and £4.00 and there are no reductions. Admission to the terraces is by payment at the turnstiles, price £2.00.

AWAY TRAVEL CLUB

ONCE again in conjunction with Ribblesdale Coachways, the Away Travel Club will be organising supporters' travel to Norwich. Details of price and timings are as follows:

NORWICH CITY

Saturday, 24th April, 1982

Accrington (Classic Cinema) 6-55 a.m.;
Blackburn (Foundry Hill) 7-20 a.m.;
Ewood Park 7-20 a.m.; Chorley (Bus Station) 6-55 a.m.

Price £7.50 (no reductions).

Bookings can be made after the game today at the Souvenir Shop at Ewood or during the coming weeks at the Club's Town Centre premises on Market Avenue (except Easter Monday and Thursday of each week).

IF TRAVELLING BY CAR DON'T FORGET ...

Speed of motorway travel can mislead the inexperienced motorway driver in terms of petrol, oil and water consumption. Don't, therefore, take the risk of running out of any of these on the motorway, as it can not only delay the time of your journey but it could prove quite expensive. Before setting off check your fuel, engine oil and water. Don't forget the windscreen washer reservoir, as this, too, is important when travelling at speed. Ensure that all your windows are clean and carry a spare fan belt — again time and money can be saved in the event of failure.
